

PROTECT OUR CULTURE. GET VACCINATED.

Announcing the launch of AAIP's Vaccination Campaign Initiative.

Increasing vaccinations is one way to ensure our tribal cultures survive and are preserved for future generations. That's why we've started a vaccination initiative to ensure all American Indian and Alaska Natives are informed about COVID-19 and have the resources and knowledge to get vaccinated.

Currently 55.6% of American Indian and Alaska Natives have their first vaccination dose, and 47.6% are fully vaccinated.

Together, we can increase those numbers.

INDIGENOUS PEOPLE ARE...

3.5

Times more likely to be hospitalized with COVID-19 than white persons.

1.7

Times more likely to contract COVID-19 than white persons.

2.4

Times more likely to die from COVID-19 than white persons.

VISIT AAIPVAX.COM

Visit AAIPVAX.COM for more information about COVID-19 and the vaccination, and be on the lookout for our COVID-19 related PSAs and ads.

The AAIP's vaccination project is supported by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). The contents do not necessarily represent official CDC/HHS views or endorsements.